

SOWETO TUK TUK TOUR JOHANNESBURG

Soweto is a bustling city on the outskirts of Johannesburg that is rich in history and home to almost 2 million inhabitants. Famously home to two Nobel Peace Prize winners, the great Nelson Mandela and Archbishop Desmond Tutu, it was the epicenter of the struggle for freedom and equality in the apartheid era. A tour of Soweto is an opportunity to learn about South Africa's turbulent past and have a look into its exciting future. The Soweto Tuk-Tuk cultural tour is led by a knowledgeable guide and you're taken many of the historic sites of the city.

Vilakazi Street

Mandela House Museum is the best place to learn about the childhood of Madiba. He received a Nobel Peace Prize in 1993 and is still regarded as a South African hero. Archbishop Desmond Tutu's home is just down the street from Mandela's. Vilakazi Street is the only street in the world that was once home to two Nobel Peace Prize winners.

Orlando Towers

What used to be cooling towers at a massive power station is now a tourist hotspot. Here you'll find the world's highest SCAD freefall and a 100-meter high bungee jumping platform. You don't have to be a daredevil to visit the Orlando Towers. The paintings on these towers are modern works of art and a great place for a selfie in Soweto.

Traditional South African Meals

Lunch at the Outdoor Restaurant is a cultural experience not to be missed. The tastiest stews, known as "potjie" in Afrikaans, and curries are prepared on a fire and served inside a hollowed-out loaf of bread. This is known as a "bunny chow". You can opt for "pap" instead of bread if you prefer.

You can also opt for a buffet with delicious stews, a traditional barbeque, or "braai" as we call it in South Africa, and side salads. The braai buffet is only available for groups of 5 or more, while the potjiekos buffet can be booked for 1 or more guests.
